

Curriculum vitae

Mgr. Eva Tomíková, MPH has been working at the Department of Nursing as an assistant professor since 2018. As part of his lecturing activities, she focuses on nursing technicians, psychiatric and pediatric nursing and clinical practice. Her publishing and research activities are mainly focused on the issue of fragility syndrome in the elderly and treatment of patients in the terminal stage of the disease. She is the co-author of the university textbook Selected Topics in Nursing Issues and also the co-author of the monograph Fundamentals of Multicultural Nursing.