

She works as an internal doctoral student at the Department of Public Health FZaSP at the Trnava University. Within the doctoral study, she deals with macroeconomic indicators in the field of food. In the academic year 2019/2020, she taught subjects, Epidemiology I and Epidemiological Studies. She had internships at the Trnava University Hospital, and the Regional Authority of Public Health in Zvolen.

Year of birth: 1993

Bachelor's degree: 2017

Master's degree: 2019

Bachelor's thesis: Analysis of the arch of the foot at the selected group of children of elementary school and kindergarten in Brusno

Master's thesis: Influence of mass media to perception on health and illness