

Mgr. Viktória Vojteková

E-mail: viktoria.vojtekova@tvu.sk

She works as a full-time PhD student at the Department of Public Health, Faculty of Health Care and Social Work, Trnava University in Trnava. She teaches nutrition hygiene and professional publication creation. As part of her doctoral studies, she focuses on the issue of supporting and protecting the health of children and young people, with regard to the design, implementation, and evaluation of a comprehensive program for the health development of primary school pupils.

In 2022, she completed professional practice at the Firemedical civic association, and in 2023 at the Regional Public Health Office in Trnava. At the same time, between 2021 and 2023, she volunteered at the Firemedical civic association, where she was actively involved in the activities of the vaccination center and mobile collection point during the COVID-19 pandemic. In addition, she also participated in the activities of the Humanitarian Center in Gabčíkovo, focused on supporting migrants arriving from Ukraine.

Year of birth: 2000

Year of graduation with a bachelor's degree: 2023

Year of graduation with a master's degree: 2025

Bachelor's thesis: Vaccination of migrant children from Ukraine - current status and possibilities for influence

Master's thesis: Health and physical literacy of elementary school students in Trnava